Washington, D. C.

Mr. Stein of Massachusetts opened for the negative. He claimed that there should be no discrimination; that the negro should have absolute privilege to go and come as he pleased; that the seat of government should be the freest place on earth, and that laws which affect the District of Columbia naturally affect the whole country. After animated debate in open discussion, Mr. Bone of Illinois, in opposition, and Mr. Artell of Texas, in favor, made the closing speech. On trial vote there was doubt as to which would carry. Party lines divided the house. The republican side undertook to filibuster, and an uproar ensued. By free use of the gavel the speaker restored order. Upon a rising vote the bill was carried by a small margin. the preceding Monday, will be for pictures on the following subjects:

House bill No. 55, to prevent admission to the United States of any Asiatics, not white, and to prevent any such now here from becoming citizens, will be discussed by the congress June 29 (Friday) at 8 p.m. The volunteer team is composed of Mr. Everett of Maryland and Mr. Christensen of Utah, in favor of the bill; Mr. Fravel of Virginia and Mr. Halerstadt of Tennessee, in opposition. This bill will undoubtedly produce animated if not exciting discussion. The congress meets in University Hall, 15th and H streets northwest, every Friday evening.

Automobiles for the Army. Automobiles will be thoroughly tested as a means of military transportation in the army mobilization exercises this summer.

The quartermaster general has ordered four machines of different makes for immediate machines of different makes for immediate delivery and will give them thorough trial at Mount Gretna, Pa., and Chickamauga. Many army quartermasters contend that automobiles are cheaper than vehicles drawn by horses for the use of any army in the field and the cost will be carefully investigated this summer.

Samuel Petrallo to Be Tried for Grave HARPER'S FERRY, W. Va., June 23 .-Offense Tuesday Next.

Kenney.

The case against Samuel Petrallo, alleging assault with intent to commit rape, was continued in the Police Court this morning until next Tuesday. Judge Mullowny yesterday issued a bench warrant for Petrallo's arrest, as he did not deem $1,000 bond to be sufficient. The bond was raised to ed guilty today in Criminal Court No. 1 of Policeman Bradley of the tenth precinct $2,000 and a warrant placed in the hands terday afternoon. He was unable to give bond in the larger amount.

Mrs. Mary Fox, who is the complaining witness in the case, alleges that Petrallo accosted her in Brookland while she was on the way to her brother's home in that section Thursday morning, and, after addressing her, seized her arms. She was struggling with her assailant when a small boy came to her rescue, and the man be-came frightened by the alarm created by the boy and rode away on his bicycle. Mrs. Fox notified her brother, John Busher, and he immediately thereafter informed Policeman Bradley, who arrested Petralio later at his barber shop in Brookland.

Petrallo was released Thursday evening by Clerk Potts of the Police Court under $1,000 bond, but Assistant District Attorney Turner did not think the bond was sufficient. cently appointed by President Rooseveit to Turner did not think the bond was sufficient and Judge Mullowny raised the amount as stated.

After Petrallo was released Thursday evening he was accosted in Brookland as he left the street car going to his home and severely beaten by two men. At the hearing yesterday Attorney Carrington for the defense stated that the assailants were known and a warrant would shortly be issued for their arrest.

THE COURT RECORD THE WEEK ENDING JUNE 23, 1906 BULLS AND BEARS

NEW YORK, June 23 .- Some members of the speculative fraternity today were still inclined to the belief that the stock market would be irregular and they did not see much encouragement for entering upon commitments of the long side, except for quick turn. It was plain, however, that the speculative situation was gradually im-proving and the opinion prevailed among some of the most experienced operators the a permanent turn for the better would take place before long. The advances scored yes terday were not regarded as significant of the beginning of the sustained upward movement. It was well known that the short Interest had become very large and the greater part of yesterday's buying was believed to have represented the retirement of short contracts. The bear party, however was by no means ready to abandon ever, was by no means ready to abandon its campaign and was not likely to do so until there appeared a more pronounced the terest in the stock market on the part of the leading financial powers or the outside public. It was noted, however, that bearish operators were becoming a little less con-fident of their position and were beginning to exercise more caution in the sale of stocks. Some of the best market judges were nevertheless of the opinion that a good many more stocks would be pressed for sale in the near future. They believed that heavy purchases made on the recent declines would again be closed out on moderate rallies.

erate rallies. The main question was how soon renewed buying power of sufficient proportions to absorb the offerings of stock would develop.

A sharp flurry in money rates was regard. ed as by no means improbable before July 1, and it was taken for granted that the hear party would not let silp so good co opportunity to force prices of stocks further downward. The formal announcement of the intention of the Attorney General to immediately institute criminal proceedings against various corporate officials alleged to have been engaged in the practice of rebating would doubtless also be used temperarily to effect the same ends.

The steady improvement of underlying conditions, however, lead the more farsighted operators to have a good deal of confidence in the buil side of the market. for a long pull. They were of the opinion that within the next week or ten days the speculative position would have a decidedly brighter aspect.

The fall in sterling rates to a point approximately close to the gold import level was of a reassuring nature and bankers believe that we would have no difficulty in se-curing the precious metal abroad if the local monetary conditions actually need as-sistance from outside quarters. The abund-ant rains which recently occurred in the crop belt afforded substantial reason for believing that the final outturn of the year of agricultural products would be much larger than recent reports indicated.

Much interest attaches to the movement in Southern Pacific common. Indications are that something of importance was developing in this stock, though persons having close relations with the management of the property said that a dividend on the stock in the near future was improbable. Rather more faith was placed in the theory that some $10,000,000 or $20,000,000 new pre-ferred stock might be issued on such a basis as to give the common shareholders valuable rights. It was believed that some such means as this might be determined upon by the Harriman interests in connec-tion with the rehabilitation of San France
